

Notation Composer takes the busy but budding musician where they are, with no learning curve. At every step along the way, you get instant feedback on how your music is sounding, and your work is displayed in a format that can be seen, heard and revised easily by everyone in your band or studio. version 1.1 Works with any MIDI instrument via USB, headphone jack or MIDI. The complete Software Suite for Creating, Editing, Playing and Printing Music. Includes the full version of Notation Composer with the most powerful tools for all kinds of music including harmony, melody and rhythm, scales and arpeggios, bass, chords, time signatures, meters, and more. For iPad,iPhone, iTouch, Android and Windows Mobile. View and edit music notation in the browser or directly on your tablet. Easily add effects, transpose music, edit notes, and add your own custom notation. The library of professional music notation fonts is expandable and has over 50 style, size and color options. In addition to standard Western musical notation, Notation Composer has thousands of non-standard scripts for the performer and arranger, and music in the popular world music traditions of Asia and Africa. Your music notation is reviewed and critiqued by professional musicians and music editors, and the same team created the Notation Composer learning program. Any musician, professional or amateur, who has a passion for music can now write with confidence and precision. If you are a high school, college or university music teacher, and you want to teach your students to write their own music, Notation Composer is perfect for you. Take your music students in the direction of musical language in the easiest and most efficient way.
