KEYMACRO is a freeware 2-in-1 software that combines the functionality of a simple keylogger and a macro recorder. The program collects any keystroke activity, which can then be recorded and repeated on command. User Guide: Press Start/OK to start the Macro Recorder. It can be used to record any combination of mouse movements, key presses and clipboard activities. Press Enter to start recording. If you run the Macro Recorder as a background application, the program can always keep track of any activity that you perform. Enter the macro command to assign it to a macro key, press Enter again to start recording the macro. The program also records all the actions that you perform while performing the macro, which can be used later. If you press Escape to stop recording, the macro will also be deleted. You can assign macros to any keyboard or mouse shortcuts. Simply press the shortcut key and press Enter to run the macro. It is possible to make the macro repeat. Simply press the Record button again to start the recording. We recommend installing a new keyboard and mouse for testing the macros before using them in a production environment. It's a good idea to store the new keyboard and mouse in a different location from where you use the computer. If you don't, you may accidentally perform the same actions using the keyboard and mouse that you did during the testing. Furthermore, you can copy and paste any text or file and perform formatting using the Macro Recorder.

MacroRecorder Key

Features: Keystrokes

Macros can be assigned to any keyboard shortcut or any combination of the Ctrl, Alt and Shift keys. They can be assigned to any shortcut, or a whole collection of shortcuts can be recorded in a macro. Macros can be run from any keyboard shortcut. Macros can be copied to the clipboard so they can be pasted anywhere. Macros can be recorded anywhere, using the Ctrl+Shift+N hotkeys or the Macro Recorder. Cursor You can use the macro recorder to record the movements of the mouse cursor. A macro can be assigned to any combination of the Ctrl, Alt and Shift keys. A macro can be run from any keyboard shortcut. You can record a macro using the mouse, or press the '+' and '-' buttons to cycle through the various cursor functions.
