Mothers Day Mothers Day is celebrated on various days in many countries. It is a day off from work or school to celebrate mothers, families and mothers-to-be. It may be celebrated on different days, depending on the country, culture, religion and region of the world. Mothers Day may be celebrated at any time of the year. Mothers are either praised, honored, or, on occasion, even neglected, as a sign of appreciation or even indifference. Some may give gifts and have parties or meals celebrating the day. Mothers are considered to be women with the greatest emotional, moral, social, and financial influence in the life of her family. Consequently, most states or nations have made a public holiday to honor mothers. Some honors mother's and child's day on March 8. In the United States, the holiday is officially named as "Mother's Day", in honor of the poem by poet Julia Ward Howe. For the ASEAN region, the original name for the holiday is of Malay origin and is called Hari Mama, which is used in West Malaysia, Singapore and Brunei. In the Philippines, the holiday is called "Magandang Buhay", which translates into "Happy Mother's Day". In Australia, the holiday is named "Luminaria", a translation from the Latin word for "light". In the United Kingdom, the holiday was first known as Maternity or Mother's Day. It is celebrated on the second Sunday in March. In Canada, the holiday is officially known as Mother's Day, but is celebrated on the second Sunday in March. In New Zealand, the holiday is officially known as Mother's Day, but is celebrated on the first Sunday in March. In Great Britain, it is known as Mothering Sunday. In the Czech Republic, it is known as the "Mass of Motherhood" or the "Mass of the Holy Virgin", and is celebrated on August 15. In Chile, it
