DEAL.Q: Update using stored procedure with parameters fails I have the following stored procedure:
CREATE PROCEDURE
testProc @param1
VARCHAR(10) AS BEGIN
UPDATE mytable SET
mytable.column1 = @param1 END This is called
in SQL Management studio
as follows exec testProc'someValue' The database is Azure SQL Database. I have a table in it with a column 1 of type varchar(30). My query fails with the following error: Msg 207, Level 16, State 1, Procedure testProc, Line 9 Invalid column name 'mytable'. Using the Sql Management studio, I have even tried to execute the query on its own i.e. UPDATE mytable SET mytable.column1 = 'someValue' and then the query works without a problem. Any thoughts? A: This has nothing to do with a stored procedure. It has to do with the fact that in the initial create statement you have the table name there twice, once in the declaration and once in the parameter. I cannot tell you why your create statement is failing unless I know more about your environment.
