The next-generation UEFA Champions League and UEFA Europa League finals will feature a squad of real-life players. Up to 30 players will play a 3v3 FIFA 22 match with 10-15 different squads for each match. They'll share every minute of the match, filmed on location, across all competition days. Highlights of the best players and moments from the matches will be delivered in multiple-platform distribution after the final. Teams and players will be able to watch and compare their progress, practice tactics and improve team chemistry before the real finals. New Game Features Every Club – Every team in the World Cup will have a stadium. Denser crowds, and unique colour palettes, will feature and gives each team a unique atmosphere and atmosphere as players run up and down the pitch, heading towards goal. Every Team in the World Cup – Stadiums vary, but teams now have new stadium interiors with unique architecture, highlighting individuality, creativity and emotion. From cathedrals to castles, with exposed brickwork and concrete columns, stadium interiors offer dynamic variety, with players feeling the difference between feeling pressure to score in a raucous stadium and a nippy passing game in a peaceful garden. Hidden Gold – Hidden Gold features allow clubs to adapt their tactics, selection and style of play for the upcoming World Cup, and will be unlocked throughout the World Cup. We will see five players on the pitch at any time, with the last-minute addition of a sixth tactical substitution. Players can play in any formation, and create any style of play with the right mix of players. For more information on Hidden Gold, check out FIFA.com. Ball Control – The Ball Control system is the biggest improvement to FIFA 22's dribbling, shooting and passing controls. The new dribbling controls are tighter and reward players for the timing of their runs, helping to keep them on the ball and keep teams in possession. The new passing controls will force players off the ball and into the correct passing lane. Improved goalkeeping tackles improve the quality of shots, and team passes are more accurate. FIFA Planet – Seismic changes in game play and gameplay mechanics will feature in FIFA Planet. Up to 30 players will be featured in a 3v3 match, and game play will evolve as fatigue builds. Each player's performance will be affected, making each match-up unique. Some players will be better suited to defensive or attacking roles, and teams will be able packs format with all-new team-based kits. Choose from fan-favourite clubs from around the world, or create and share your own kits using new Custom Kit Designer. FIFA's signature ball has been reborn in all-new FIFA 22 gameplay. New gameplay innovations include Tackling, which sees the ball deflected unpredictably off players when they attempt to win back possession, and new physical tricks, such as a new shoulder-to-shoulder style of play, low sliding, and new off-the-ball movements. This should feel and look more realistic, with more believable animations and new ball physics. FIFA 22 introduces new animation sets for all players, including an alternate high-speed run animation, which removes the ball from players during sprints. Visuals – A new Rush Engine delivers deeper, more responsive visuals. New clothing has been retooled for realism and looks more true to life, with improved cloth flow, improved fabric definition, and new textures and lighting. On the pitch, richly detailed stadiums, more crowds, and atmospheric lighting give you a more immersive experience. FIFA's Best. A review copy of the video game was provided by EA for
