In other words, they're both unchallenged in their segment. New rumors, though, have Ford considering doing something radical to their compact crossover, which may be too extreme and risky to pull off. Recently, a photo of a prototype Escape wearing a camouflage almost identical to the one on the CR-V popped up on the web. What's New in FIFA 22? Changes to FIFA 22 gameplay in key areas include: Pinpoint passing Be even more precise than ever in movement on and off the ball. Players will be more able to decide what to do, when to do it, and how to approach the game. FIFA 22 means more of your on-ball play decisions will be under your control, even as you make decisions off the ball. This means less time spent waiting for the ball to come your way, and more of the time spent making yourself available to receive it. After all, the difference between a chance and a goal is often a split-second between you and the ball. Play faster and more intense than ever before Thanks to new skill moves that emphasize controlled ball handling, players are able to cut, pass and shoot, quickly and confidently. They are also able to change direction much more effectively in both offense and defense. In addition, the new 1-2-3 step passing and multi-directional dribbling will allow your players to pass longer and direct the ball with more confidence. Now quicker, now stronger You will notice that players are quicker in possession, are stronger in positioning, and have more stamina in all areas. Players can evade, challenge or block their opponents with precision and determination. New animations mean that they are able to react naturally to physical contact, and move more dynamically in and out of possession. Moving as a unit, players will collectively link up and break in different directions to accelerate, pull away, or defend opponents. This naturally tightens up the pitch, making the game feel more tactically intense. For the first time ever, FIFA is available in 1:1 life size, using tracked animations. This is the ultimate football experience, allowing you to interact with your players like they would react in your very own stadium. More ways to score

Introducing a new Goal Impact system that will interact with the physical reality of the game. Players will be more realistically impacted by the dynamic interaction of the ball, the surrounding players and the environment, and goalkeeper interaction with the ball. This creates a more unpredictable and realistic scoring experience. Referees will display more decisive and informed tactics on the pitch, making the game feel and play more realistic. They will react
