Mating pattern and sexual behavior of the tree frog, Phyllomedusa bicolor (Anura: Hylidae), on a matrix of secondary vegetation in the Atlantic Forest of southern Brazil. The mating patterns of the tree frog, Phyllomedusa bicolor, were studied on a matrix of secondary vegetation composed by Cerrado, Chaco, Atlantic Forest, Miconia and Sabiá vegetation. Five parameters were evaluated: frequency of flashes emitted by males; percentage of frogs located on mating pairs; percentage of copulation attempts during the observation period; duration of copulation attempts; and percentage of males that attempted copulation. The male repertoire comprises 61 calls, both pulsed and non-pulsed, with three main categories: a multisyllabic form, a high frequency and a pulse-like form. The recorded calls (M=5.59) were emitted with a minimum interval of 0.45s. The frequency of flashes emitted by males was high (M=20.25) and independent of male age. From the'successful' frogs, 81.5% were located on mating pairs. Copulation attempts occurred for 32.8% of the observation time. The young frogs (less than one month of age) emitted a pulse-like call followed by the same call when older frogs showed the multisyllabic call. Juvenile frogs were more likely to copulate than older ones. They were also more often located on mating pairs. Copulation attempts were more common and lasted longer in adults than in juveniles. Thus, copulation attempts of the species occur during the first year of life. Adults more often emitted flashes in addition to calls than juveniles.Magdalena Rappold Magdalena Rappold (12 June 1924 – 8 May 2013) was a Swiss banker, lawyer and philanthropist. are que cada uno de los colectivos presenta un patrón diferente de la postura del Gobierno y de la sociedad sobre el fracaso escolar. Intenté comentar esto en el artículo por un lado y por otro. Finalmente opté por no hacerlo y dedicar el centro a otros temas. Pero si queda algo que decir al respecto es que la postura del nuevo Gobierno no es diferente de la que había en el anterior. Ello no desvela nada sobre la intención del Gobierno de presentar una reforma educativa; desde luego, es clave para entender sus propuestas, pero no solo desde el punto de vista del contenido.In the world of hydraulic connectors and couplings, pneumatic connectors are often used to connect pneumatic lines that do not require or require less than full pressurized fluid. For example, pneumatic pressure lines are often used to interconnect various components of pressure washers such as air-powered tools and/or hydro-powered tools. As such, the air-powered component of the pressure washer can use the pneumatic line to supply air to the air-powered motor of the pressure washer. A drawback to connecting a pneumatic component to a pneumatic line using a pneumatic connector is the leakage of air due to the use of a leaky conduit or other non-airtight conduit. If the pneumatic line is connected directly to the pneumatic connector, air will flow from the outlet of the pneumatic connector, through the conduit, and into the intake of the pneumatic connector. This will create a pressure differential between the outlet and the inlet of the pneumatic connector, thus allowing air to flow through the conduit. In addition, there is
